COMMENTS:

I would very much appreciate your prompt reply to the following questions:

Will President Bush, in his discussions at the UN Security Council meeting later this week, bring up human rights issues in China and/or elsewhere? If not, why not?

Is President Bush in the process of trying to decide whether to meet with Li Peng, one on one? If so, will human rights be on the agenda?

Will bilateral discussions take place with the Chinese during the UN summit meeting? Will human rights issues be on that agenda? Who will be involved in these bilaterals?

Thanks again for your help.
